AUTHOR NOT WISELY GUIDED Book May Have Deplorable Effect on Humanity, in the Possible Passing of the Fat Man.

An American author who has made a name for himself in American letters threatens to nullify his good work by standing sponsor for a volume entitled "Eat and Grow Thin." In this book he liberalizes to the proportions of an epicurean dream the food a fat person may indulge in and yet melt his "too, too, solid flesh," Fat menthere are, of course, no fat womenwho have adopted the generous Thompson regimen assert that they are steadily decreasing in avoirdupois and yet are enjoying bountiful repasts. It is to ween.

The fat man is the delight of the world. This is universally conceded. The fat man is a philosopher, despite what Shakespeare makes Caesar say, by inference, in his expressed desire to have about him "fat, sleek-headed men," complaining that the lean and hungry Cassius "thinks too much." The fat man exudes a joyous, unctuous optimism that inspires and cheers all about him. He thinks, however, that he would prefer to be thin, not realizing the origin of his blessings. The only thing that has prevented his becoming thin is the fact that most systems of diet require a sort of starva-tion—and his provender is more dear to him than a sylph-like form.

But now that he may eat luxurious ly and grow thin he is likely to desert the society that has profited by his beneficent spirit and become skinny, unimpressive and pessimistic. Then in time of stress and trial thin, worried people will have no billowy shoulder upon which to weep, no fat philosopher to encourage, sustain and soothe. In time of trouble a fat friend is in the shadow of a great rock in a weary land. He is a fortress against the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune-though Falstaff, fat and scant of breath, strangely failed to take advantage of his obesity.

GREAT HARVEST

Decidedly Encouraging From Every Standpoint.

Speaking of conditions generally in Canada, the most encouraging feature of the year, from a trade and financial standpoint, has been the bountiful harvest of the Northwest, where a greatly increased area under cultiva tion has given the highest average yield in the history of the country. It is estimated that the grain crop of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta has a market value to the producers of approximately four hundred million dollars, in the use of which we may anticipate, not only the liquidation of much indebtedness, but the stimulation of current trade.

The annual reports of the various banks throughout Canada are now being published. They savor of optimism all the way through, and, contrary to what might be generally expected in war times, business is good everywhere.

The General Manager of the Bank of Montreal at the recent annual meeting said: "The position of Canada is a highly favored one, with an assured future of growth, development and general prosperity."

In the same report it is said that the Canadian West "has recovered to a marked extent from the economic dislocation of a year ago." The season's wheat and other cereal crops have exceeded all previous records in quantity and quality, and, despite the enormous yield, prices have been uncommonly well maintained. It would be difficult to exaggerate the importance of these results to the Prairie Provinces-and the Dominion

The prosperity of those engaged in mixed farming and ranching is most encouraging.

The flour mills in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta are busy and are doing well. Their combined daily cepacity is about 27,000 barrels.

The large advances of the Dominion Government to farmers in certain districts, principally in the form of seed, were made very opportunely and have been amply justified by the very large crop yield in those districts.

Business in many important lines is good and should continue to improve as returns from grain yet to be marketed are received.

The general business outlook has been transformed by the large crop. The returns of the gross earnings of Canadian rallroads for November show those of the Canadian Pacific in-creased $1,796,000 or 78 per cent for the last nine days of the month. Compared with same month year ago, in crease no less than $5,291,000 or 67.6 per cent against a 45 per cent gain in October, and a decrease of 41/2 per cent in September.

H. V. Meredith, of the Bank of Montreal, in a recent address delivered at Montreal, declared that the most encouraging feature from a trade and finance standpoint had been the boun-tiful harvest of the Northwest, where the greatly increased area under cultivation had given the highest average in history of the country. He estimated the grain crop of the three provinces at a value of over $400,000. 000, and said that such remarkable refarther ones goes down below the wa- shores, when the world is again at youth.-Rev. STOP EATING MEAT IF KIDNEYS OR BACK HURT

OLD SETTLERS QUIT OBLIVION

Where Now They Lie Under Weeds in Long Island a Park Will Be Laid Out.

After reposing in peaceful oblivion beneath the sod for two and a half centuries, some early Dutch settlers of Long island and two or three Indian chiefs have been discovered by the present generation and are to be nonored with a monument, a New York dispatch says.

These long-forgotten Long islanders lle in one of the oldest cemeteries in America. This burial plot adjoins the old Flatlands Dutch Reformed church at Kings highway and East Fortieth street, which was built in 1664.

For many years the graves have been covered with weeds and poison tvy, and passers by have to look very closely to see any signs of grave-

After a lapse of 261 years a move ment has been started to improve the plot so as to make it justly commemo rative of the ancestors of many of the oldest and best-known families of Brooklyn and Long island. Under the direction of Rev. Charles William Roeder, pastor of the church, plans have been completed for raising funds for the improvement by popular subscription.

All the graves will be leveled, all traces of poison tvy and weeds will be eradicated and by the time the work is through the cemetery will be a veritable park.

The idea is to make a park similar to the graveyard of old Trinity church lower Broadway, Manhattan. It will differ from the other parks in that it will not be a place for amusement recreation. Everything will be done to heighten the sanctity of the place.

The graveyard is a landmark in the nation's history, and for this reason is expected to gain nation-wide attention within a short time. Many of the descendants of the primitive stock, who moved to other parts of the country, are expected to respond to the project and to contribute their share in making the new park.

The idea has been met with enthusiasm by the parishioners of the Flatlands church and people living near by who have heard of the plans are responding generously with subscriptions. No doubt is felt that all the necessary funds will be raised. Those in charge are making provision for in stituting a perpetual fund so that the graveyard park will be taken care of

His First Sermon.

My first sermon was delivered when I was eighteen years old, and in a country farmhouse in Shropshire, England, and in the shadow of the stately Wenlock Abboy The kitchen in which this august event took place was lined with a generous supply of hams and flitches of bacon, with strings of onions strung from the rafters.

The audience consisted of about fifteen farm hands, five or six of their employers, and the miller of the little hamlet. I addressed them with what I thought to be considerable effect for about fifteen minutes, and no words of mine can describe the trepidations from which I suffered during this short At the close a husky plowman asked me if I was the son of my father, who was also a preacher, and upon my replying that I could claim that honor, he strongly advised me to send my father the next time and avoid such a catastrophe as I had inflicted upon them that Sabbath afternoon,

Thus began my career as a preach er, and I walked the 11 intervening miles to my home a sadder and a wiser pastor of the Central Congregational Blurred Speech.

The use of the ungrammatical colloquialisms of which we are all more or less guilty has a deleterious influence on the character. Slang has the same effect. They put a person in a rut where one gets along without thinking. But the wrong of the opposite situation reveals it. Take a person who is careful in his speech, who chocses his words and carefully frames his sentences and you become aware immediately of a thoughtful effort, and you feel that there is something clean in the person's mind. It is more than likely that the great majority of dreams belong to the few ments when we are falling off to sleep and the equally brief time we take to wake up. How to avoid Operations

These Three Women Tell How They Escaped the Dreadful Ordeal of Surgical Operations.

Hospitals are great and necessary institutions, but they should be the last resort for women who suffer with ills peculiar to their sex. Many letters on file in the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., prove that a great number of women after they have been recommended to submit to an operation have been made well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Here are three such letters. All sick women should read them.

Marinette, Wis.—"I went to the doctor and he told me I must have an operation for a female trouble, and I hated to have it done as I had been married only a short time. I would have terrible pains and my hands and feet were cold all the time. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and was cured, and I feel better in every way. I give you permission to publish my name because I am so thankful that I feel well again."
—Mrs. Fred Behnke, Marinette. Wis. -Mrs. FRED BEHNKE, Marinette, Wis.

Detroit, Mich.—"When I first took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was so run down with female troubles that I could not do anything, and our doctor said I would have to undergo an operation. I could hardly walk without help so when I read about the Vegetable Compound and what it had done for others I thought I would try it. I got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and a package of Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and used them according to directions. They helped me and today I am able to do all my work and I am well."

—Mrs. Thos. Dwyer, 989 Milwaukee Ave., East, Detroit, Mich.

Bellevue, Pa.—"I suffered more than tongue can tell with terrible bearing down pains and inflammation. I tried several doctors and they all told me the same story, that I never could get well without an operation and I just dreaded the thought of that. I also tried a good many other medicines that were recommended to me and none of them helped me until a friend advised me to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. The first bottle helped, I kept taking it and now I don't know what it is to be sick any more and I am picking up in weight. I am 20 years old and weigh 145 pounds. It will be the greatest pleasure to me if I can have the opportunity to recommend it to any other suffering woman."—Miss Irenz Froelicher, 1923 Manhattan St., North Side, Bellevue, Pa.
